Under the name of Introposition, Jacques Bonnard provides a mirroring device, along the lines of the idea of the exhibition.

Introposition generates friction between images, paintings, drawings, objects, and sculptures that are distant in time, but perhaps weaving into a whole. This “perhaps” can possibly be assessed by means of the visual cues given by Jacques Bonnard. Of importance to generations of visual arts professionals since the 1990s, serving as critical and keen eye to CIRCUIT since its inception. With this Introposition, a non-linear articulation in time (about 35 years), the survey leans more towards the “sensitive” than the conceptual, leaving room for a minimum of pathos, trying to adopt an attitude that creates forms, and forms that trigger the fundamentals.

The work of Jacques Bonnard is present in the collections of the Ville de Lausanne, the MCBA, the Swiss Confederation, the BCV, the Crédit Suisse, and private collections. His works have been shown at the Galerie Rivolta, Lausanne, at the MCBA, Lausanne, at the Shedhalle, Zürich, at the Galerie Skopia, Nyon, at the Plattform für zeitgenössische Kunst, Lucerne, at Forde, Genève, at Curtat Tunnel, Lausanne, at Valentin 61, Lausanne, at La Placette, Lausanne, at standard/deluxe, Lausanne, to name but a few. He was awarded the Prix Crédit Suisse in 1987.
